*High in air thy spires are tow'ring
Gleaming in the light,
While their solemn shades embow'ring
Waves the Blue and White—
Furling in its tranquil beauty
O'er a body true—
Sons and daughters bound by duty
Give their love to you.*

*Thy bright emblem shining o'er us
Shows thy glorious might.
Through the years thou safely bore us
Spotless Blue and White.
Sons and daughters bring thee praises,
Bring thee praise and fame,
And thy standard high upraises—
Herald of thy name.*

FIFTY YEARS OF WARREN HIGH SCHOOL

FIFTY YEARS OF WARREN HIGH SCHOOL

In 1897 the erection of the present high school building was completed; consequently, this year marks the fiftieth anniversary of Warren High School. In carrying out an appropriate anniversary theme, the Dragon Board asked prominent members of former classes of Warren High to describe school life and activities as they were in the past. The editors wish to express their gratitude to those alumni writers for their kind help in the compilation of this historical section of the 1947 DRAGON.

DRAGON BOARD,
WARREN HIGH SCHOOL,
WARREN, PENNSYLVANIA.

Gentlemen:

The Warren High School Class of 1897 was, I believe, the last class to be graduated from the old high school or academy, as it was formerly termed, and not the first to be graduated from the new building. At that time, it was known as the eleventh grade and the sub-high school room was called Number Ten, presided over by Miss Flower, whom many may still remember.

In 1897, the high school course was covered in a period of three years of two semesters each. Our hours of daily attendance were from 9 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., exclusive of Saturdays and holidays. The assembly room and class rooms were all situated on the second floor of the old Academy building on Hickory Street where the City Building now stands. I believe we covered in three years approximately the same course of studies you now include in your present four year course.

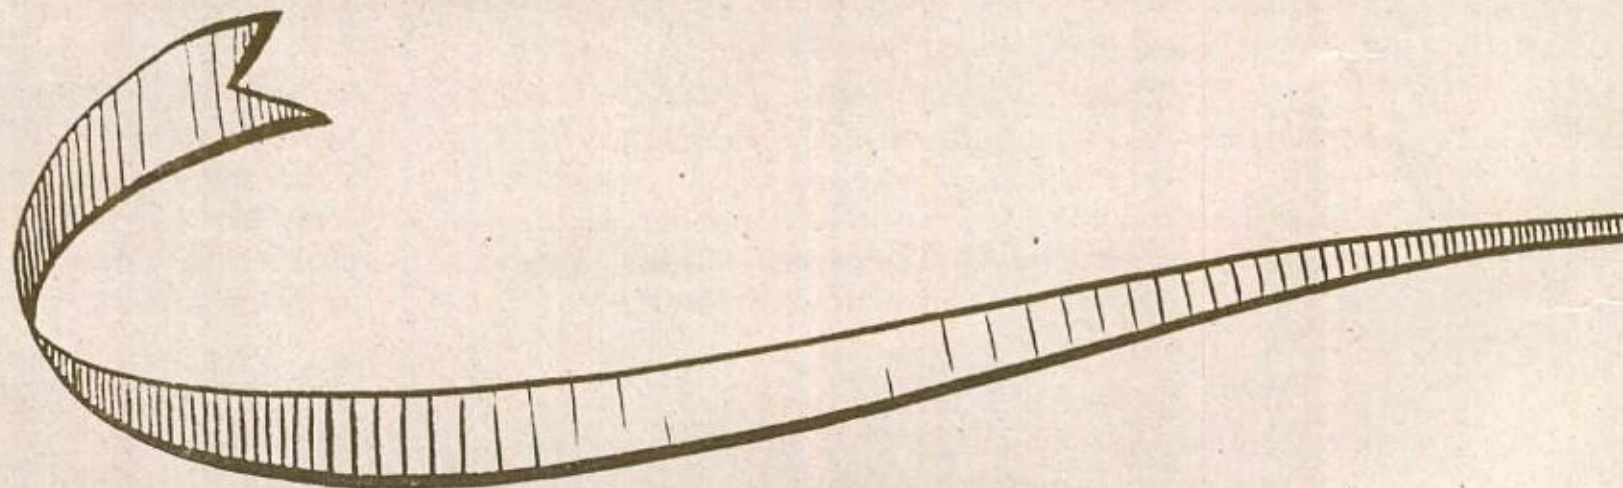

The high school proper consisted of a large assembly or study room and about five class rooms—somewhat different from the present set-up. The environment was more conducive to study as there were no automobiles, radios, or movies to distract or divert the student. Our pleasures or distractions were necessarily restricted to those of a pedestrian or bicyclist, although our flights of fancy could roam as far afield as those of our present high school scholars, and even then you would see many a dreamy eyed student diligently perusing some study book, the contents of which were mostly a blank in the class room. These were the gas light days!

The boundaries of Warren Borough during that era terminated at the Conewango Creek and the Allegheny River. Across the Conewango Creek was Glade, and above that was Glade Run, both separate and independent towns, and on the other side of the Allegheny River was Pleasant Township. Many will remember the old wooden bridge across the Allegheny and the old famous swinging bridge across the Conewango. These towns had their own schools, and the Jefferson Street School served for Glade as a preparatory to our high school. All pupils from other towns or localities attending Warren High School were required to pay a special tuition.

The only paved streets in Warren were the business streets. All other streets were dirt roads. You will understand that this was in the "Gay Nineties" before the advent of the automobile. We had a few street cars in the borough, but no paved roads or transportation to other towns except the railroads. A pedestrian was not the low, insignificant creature of today. All he had to avoid were the dashing steeds of the wealthy or the daring bicyclist who had just graduated from the old high seater bicycle (the one with one big wheel in front and a small one in the rear). It was a great event for Warren when Major Windsor promoted and built a bicycle path paralleling the road to Youngsville (it was a gravel path) and many of us worked and sweated through a summer afternoon making the round trip.

Our sports activities consisted mainly of track and field competition with other high schools in the spring and football in the fall. It might not be amiss to state that we were seldom defeated in these events. Our 1896 football team was undefeated and unscored upon during the entire season by any other high school team. Unable to get enough competition from other high schools, we played against town teams and athletic clubs, and the only team that even scored against us was the Kane Athletic Club of ex-college players. We played 30 minute halves and never used a substitute once during the entire season. Every member played every minute of every game. To any who might be interested, a picture of that team is still on display in the window of Merle Graham's shoe shining parlors on Pennsylvania Avenue.

The present day cheerleaders might be interested to hear that "Rah! Rah! Blue! Rah! Rah! White!" was the composition of Charles Weller, who was then attending Warren High School, and was dedicated to the 1896 football team.

Our class of 1897 was not a large one. As I recall, there were about thirty graduates. But though it was small in numbers, I believe it contributed to no small degree in the progress and development of Warren. I hope I may be pardoned if I mention a few names familiar to most of you: William Clark, Attorney; Sidney Blackman, Attorney; F. J. Lyons, Attorney and former burgess, and Edward Johnson, President of the Warren National Bank.

Though it is difficult to separate school experiences from subsequent happenings after a lapse of fifty years, I have attempted to give you a picture of the surroundings and events at the time I attended Warren High School. I wish you the best of luck in the publication of your historical volume of the DRAGON.

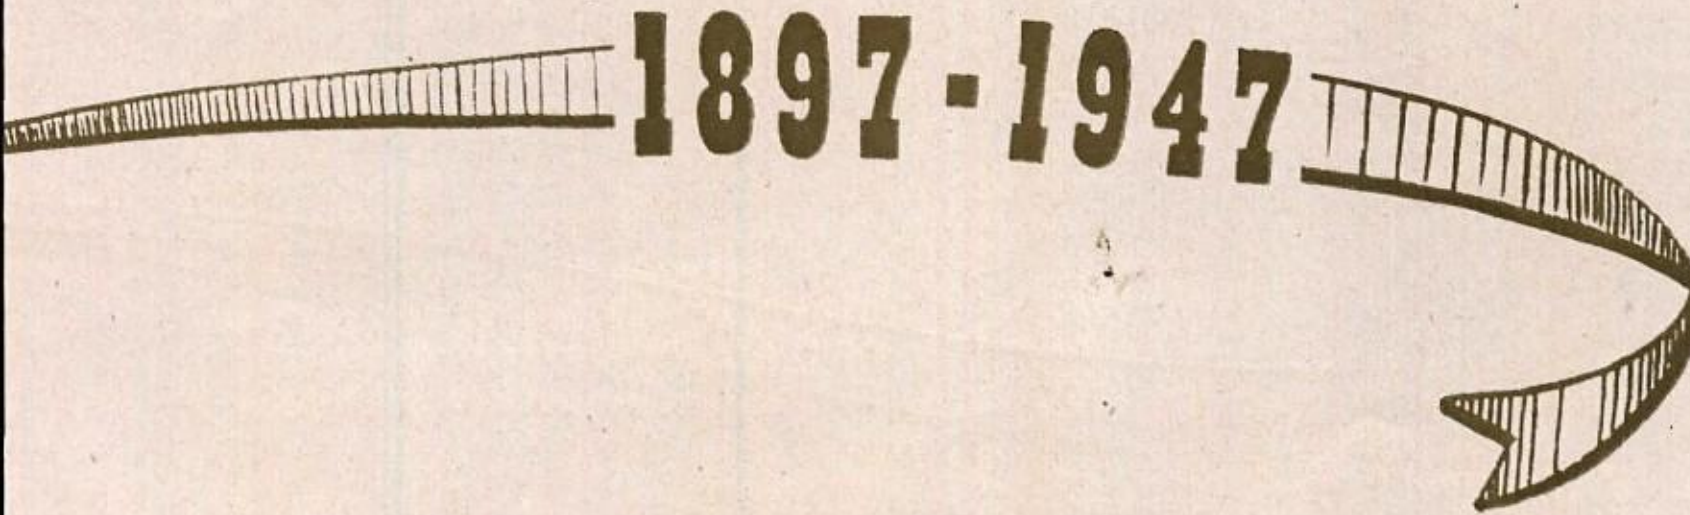

Thomas H. Jenkins,
Class of 1897.

Gentlemen:

Life in Warren High School forty years ago was not as unlike the present as one might think. In refreshing my memory on the subject, browsing through the pages of the 1907 DRAGON, I was surprised to find how readily most of the activities, situations, and even wise-cracks could be transplanted to 1947 without appearing to be old-fashioned. I must admit, however, that some expressions would require modernizing. For instance, there are numerous references to certain physical demonstrations of mutual attraction between a boy and a girl, then known as spooning. The youth of today would probably consider this expression to be nothing more than a method of eating soup.

To me, the greatest difference forty years has made in the school is in its size. Our graduating class was extremely large for those days—eleven boys and twenty-two girls! But what we lacked in numbers we made up in enthusiasm. To a large extent we made our own amusements, which were none the less enjoyable. Organized forms of entertainment were not often available, but picnics, bus rides (with horses, of course), and parties of various kinds provided a great deal of fun.

So far as official school activities were concerned, we had football, basketball, and baseball teams. Our competitive standing was about on a par with present day teams. As an example, the basketball team in 1906 won 12 out of 14 games, and in return engagements, defeated both Jamestown and Corry, which were the teams which had previously beaten us. The 1907 football team won seven games, tied one, and lost only to Titusville. Incidentally, in those days Titusville was our chief rival in all sports. When we played football there, a special car was chartered for the students, both boys and girls, and we were entertained at a gala dance in the evening. The same plan was carried out when they played here, and many life long friendships, and some romances of shorter duration were the result. Baseball was much more popular in high school circles than it is now, which is difficult to understand, in view of the hold it has on the American public in general.

As to scholastic effort and attainment, I doubt if there has been much change; and probably there exists about the same proportion of loafing and cramming, bluffing and hard work, worry and elation.

But of one thing I am sure. If we in 1907 had seen the inscription "Kilroy was here," chalked on the high school steps, we would have been just as bewildered as you of the 1947 class would be if you were confronted with a sign saying "23—Skidoo."

Gentlemen:

To the members of the Class of 1947, the year 1917 is shrouded in the mists of antiquity; therefore, this article will attempt to dispell those mists and show that things in W. H. S. were not so very different even way back there. The so-called students of that era carried books like yours—even read some of them—and worried about grades every six weeks and twice a year. Aside from strictly academic similarity, we assume that today's class is most interested in what was done along the line of school activities—and that was plenty!

In the years around 1917, the high school maintained the customary athletic teams including baseball and track. The basketball teams produced consistently winning combinations and the footballers came through with the justly famous undefeated 1917 season. A very active Rifle Team shot matches with teams strung clear out to the Pacific Coast—and won most of them. A Debating Club fought the battle of words with high schools of the district and the Camera Fans had their own group—even as today. These were the days of the infancy of radio—and W. H. S. students had their own addicts; the club was formed when radio was still wireless and carried the name, Wireless Club, operating several “ham” stations for sending and receiving. As soon as the rest of the world caught up, the name was changed to the Warren Amateur Radio Association.

The Glee Club sprouted offshoots such as a Male Quartet and a flourishing Mandolin Club which would even attempt jazz concerts if sufficiently urged. The Orchestra assumed symphonic proportions and your high school was the first secondary school in the country to introduce chamber music into the program for students. In '16 and '17, in addition to an Ensemble, the Orchestra developed an excellent String Quartet. The Combined Musical Clubs brought several College Glee Clubs to Warren for concerts and, incidentally, dances afterward. Somewhere in the minds of the undergraduates, there originated a desire for additional expression and a series of musical entertainments broke out, culminating in two full scale High School Minstrels and one complete Operetta.

Both Boy Scout and Girl Scout organizations of the town headed up in high school and were recognized as high school activities. Leadership was provided by the older students and faculty members. The Hi-Y and Girls' Clubs also had several successful years' operation behind them in 1917 and continued to play an important part in school life.

The Dramatic Club was particularly ambitious and produced such classics as Goldsmith's "She Stoops To Conquer" and Shakespeare's "As You Like It," climaxing these attempts with a stupendous Shakespearean Pageant, practically a day-long event, held indoors and outdoors to celebrate the Shakespeare Tercentennial. We also produced our share of the customary "Joe Zilch" type of popular play.

There was a war on circa 1917 and War Work was a primary activity. However, there was enough time left for such outbursts as a Hallowe'en Parade, organized Class Scraps, Class Cornroasts and Picnics and the usual round of unscheduled events. The publications need not be ashamed of their contributions. The DRAGON was its usual top-grade self and rated very high among secondary school year books—then, as now. Also the Blue and White was published as a literary outlet for the students, first as a monthly of twenty-four pages, later as a quarterly of fifty pages.

Looking backward, they seem like very busy, very happy days—just as yours are now. Only one comment can explain such activity, "Youth, It's Wonderful".

Class of 1917.

Gentlemen:

The graduating class of 1927 has many fond memories of Warren High School. As a class we survived the double sessions of school attendance, a change of superintendents, and alterations of the high school building resulting in the making of class rooms from the upstairs study hall.

We recall vividly our successful football team and our boys' basketball team playing in the gym with an overhanging running track. We still remember our girls' basketball team and their competing in the Northwestern Pennsylvania championships. There was a good track team with an exceptional record in dual and District meets and entries in the State meets. We also recall a better-than-average baseball team, a boys' glee club with good soloists and winners in sectional competition; an active Hi-Y Club with weekly dinners and a varied program; and the Blue and White Magazine published quarterly—a work of art and a recording of all high school activities. In addition to these, we had a debating team, a Dramatic Club, Latin and Spanish Clubs and many other organizations.

Ending our high school career in 1927, we were proud of our DRAGON, our gray caps and gowns (worn for the first time in place of the traditional black) for Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises—held in the Library Theater—and the many accomplishments of our Class.

We of the Class of 1927 consider it a pleasure and a privilege to extend our sincere congratulations on this anniversary. We are sure that the DRAGON during these 50 years has established an enviable record, and to each graduate it has been a source of satisfaction as well as a personal treasure.

We are all justly proud of Warren High School's record of achievement in scholarship, athletics, dramatics, music, and the many other activities enjoyed by the student body. To most of us, however, the annual publication of the DRAGON is by far the greatest achievement and lives on with each student as a record never to be forgotten.

We of the Class of 1927 commend the student body of 1947, and particularly the Senior Class, on its meritorious record and the publication of this the 50th Anniversary Dragon.

DRAGON BOARD,
WARREN HIGH SCHOOL,
WARREN, PENNSYLVANIA.

Gentlemen:

1937! Ten years ago! The class that graduated one hundred and ninety-four members was the sixtieth class to be graduated from the Warren High School!

1897-1947

1937! We claimed that year as the year for "Dreams and Their Dreamers." We considered ourselves the class that had started out in 1933 with a new glamorous world in view and our goals were like stars and our hopes were dreams of what our high school life would do for us.

We took an active part in all school activities. Our publication boards kept many of us busy—Dragon Board, Dragonette Board, Nunc et Tunc, and Lebewohl. The Dragonette was issued six times during the year, and Latin classes published semi-annual issues of the official Latin magazine, the Nunc et Tunc. The Lebewohl, meaning farewell, was a booklet published in May by the German students and contained articles which were reminiscences of the year's work.

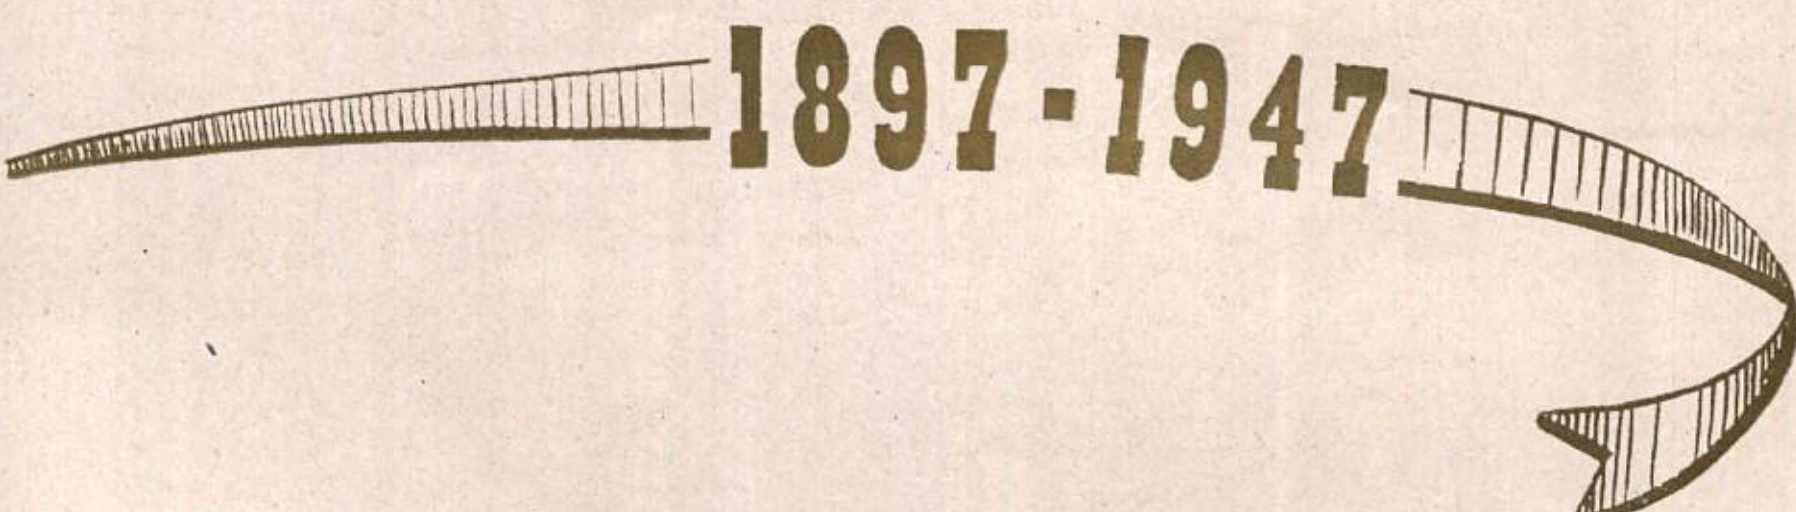

Football and basketball played an active and interesting part in our school life. The Dragons completed a remarkable season and inscribed a very successful record in the annals of Warren High School. In basketball nine victories in twelve games gave Warren the Championship title of Class A of the Northern Division of District IX. After leaving W. H. S. nine varsity members from our football team played either professional or college football.

Was the Class of 1937 so different from the Class of 1947? Perhaps our skirts were worn a wee bit longer and perhaps ankle socks were not worn quite so much. On the whole, our problems were practically the same as yours are now. We, too, spent a lot of time having fun, but our school work came first.

When our Commencement Day approached we felt the same emotions you, as members of the Class of 1947, will feel. We also spent happy moments deciding our class colors—blue and white, class flower—blue and white iris, and our class mascot—Baby Dumpling. We were proud of our Commencement Program and the winners of our class prizes.

We, the Class of 1937, extend to you, the Class of 1947, our heartiest congratulations in the success you have attained as members of the Warren High School and express to you our deepest wishes for many years of good luck as you step out into the world.

Laura Platerote,
Class of 1937.

THE BOARD OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS

The Board of School Directors of the District of Warren Borough is responsible for the management of the local schools. It determines the policies, makes the rules and regulations, erects and maintains buildings, elects and assigns teachers, and on the basis of the outline supplied by the State sets up the local course of study. In April or May of each year after careful study, a budget is proposed, a tax rate indicated, and after a public hearing, the financial program of the next year is established.

There are seven members on the Board of School Directors. They are elected at large for a term of six years. Warren is indeed fortunate in having as members of its Board of School Directors outstanding citizens who without remuneration accept this important responsibility.

The members of the Board of Directors are as follows: Melvin G. Keller, president; Ralph E. Brasington, vice-president; Homer M. Mohr, secretary; Neil D. Paterson, treasurer; Wallace H. Cowden; Dr. William Cashman; Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge; and R. Pierson Eaton, solicitor.

Superintendent John G. Rossman is assisted by Dr. Carl E. Whipple, who began his duties in Warren Borough Schools in January.

ADMINISTRATION ASSISTANTS

The Administration assistants are indispensable to the life of Warren High School.

Miss Laura Platerote is the secretary to Superintendent Rossman.

Miss Martha Dutchess is the secretary to Mr. Bathurst.

Charles Beck is the clerk for the Board of School Directors.

Thomas P. Juliano was recently appointed supply clerk.

We, as seniors, realize that our four years in high school have been but the stage in which we have been able to develop our intellects and characters to a true appreciation of the real purpose and aim in life. Now we pause, after calling to mind a vision of the past four years, to realize the accomplishments of the members of our class. It is not merely the recognition of the leadership of our class in achievements for Warren High School that means the most to us, although we regard our efforts in this behalf with a feeling of great pride and satisfaction. It is, however, the lasting friendships that we have made among our classmates that we value most — friendships based on ideals of democracy. We have learned to appreciate the value of others' qualities.

We have been inspired to go forth with confidence and to bring credit to our school in upholding principles taught us at Warren High. May it be our individual duty to keep the school spirit of our class alive and burning brightly in our hearts, letting it shine forth in ever-increasing brilliance on our future path in whatever form of life-service we may enter.

CLASS POEM

*Like a boat embarked on a troubled sea,
We seniors face the world,
Knowing that wherever we shall be,
Flies the blue and white unfurled.*

*Though only in our memory's eyes,
A hazy, distorted view,
Still lovingly cherished throughout our lives
Our high school and friendships true.*

*For half a century seniors such as we,
Have faced horizons unknown,
In college, at work, they could not foresee,
For their pathways led far from home.*

*This, then, is the challenge,
The goal to be won.
How well prepared we are.
Let us proudly bear our banners high,
Our ambitions on the nearest star.*

—BILL HILL.

SECTION

As more opportunities presented themselves, more difficult tasks were accomplished by the junior class. They proved their ability by taking an active part in all school activities. The highlight of the junior year, the presentation of Young Adventure, displayed their fine dramatic ability. The season was brought to a close by that great event, the Junior-Senior Prom. The juniors secretly rejoiced at the prospect of filling the vacancy left by the graduating seniors.

SOPHOMORES

New vistas opened as the sophomores began their first year in Warren High School. In assuming duties and accepting responsibilities, the foundation for more important tasks was being laid. As the members of the class became more aggressive, they began to assert themselves and to choose those activities most suited to their likes and most closely correlated with their course of study. The many and varied talents of the sophomore class soon found expression in the band, the orchestra, the Glee Club, athletics, dramatics, the Hi-Y, and the Girls' Club. Working together and delving into previously unknown fields furnished interest, relaxation, and the making of life-long friendships.

As in previous years, the Council arranged a variety of interesting and valuable programs for the student body. These included speakers, movies, music, and student talent.

The highlight of the year's activities was the annual Indoor Carnival held on April 11. At that time the high school building became a whirl of gaiety as it took the form of an entertainment hall. The small gym held a midway; classrooms accommodated side shows; and the cafeteria housed the bingo game. Crowning events of the Carnival were the auditorium shows and the dance.

With a pace-setting membership of one hundred twenty, the High School Girls' Club enjoyed a record year of well-rounded activity and of wholesome entertainment. The new name Y-Teens was formally introduced by the cabinet in both Beaty and High School by the presentation of a skit.

During August a delegation of three Warren girls, Patty Wade, Betty Jean Kolpien, and Jo Ann Phillips, went to a summer conference at Camp Forty Acres near Buffalo. Many new ideas were brought back and employed in this year's program.

Numerous projects were undertaken on a larger scale. The open-house after the Jamestown game was well attended despite the rainy weather. For the first time a Standing World Fellowship Committee was inaugurated. At Christmas time, the Hi-Y combined with the Y-Teens for the annual Hanging of the Greens. To reach the seventy-five dollar goal for the Around-the-World YWCA Reconstruction Fund each member sacrificed three cents per day for the six weeks' period of Lent.

All dances proved successful and enjoyable. Among these were the Bell Ball, the Romeo-Juliet Dance, and the Friday night basketball dances.

In place of the Ring Committee of previous years, an Awards Department was established whereby members received points for participation in such classes as knitting, swimming, gym, and discussion groups. At the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet, awards of pins and bracelets were presented to those who had earned the required number of points.

Several new viewpoints and helpful ideas for club activities were gained by the members who attended the Mid-winter Conference held on February 21, 22, and 23 in Jamestown.

The Girls' Club aimed to uphold the ideas of fellowship and democracy, so much emphasized by the YWCA.

The Cabinet for the year was as follows:

Secretary	Mary Evelyn Hill
Treasurer	Lois Sigworth

By more than doubling its membership this year, the Hi-Y was better able to achieve its goal, which was to create, to maintain, and to extend high standards of Christian character throughout the community.

The club engaged in many projects, such as, selling candy at basketball games, distributing soap samples, selling Christmas trees, participating in a Hi-Y Basketball League, and giving generously to the European Restoration Fund.

On December 30, the Hi-Y combined efforts with the Girls' Club to present the very successful Bell Ball. It is hoped that this will become an annual affair.

Club officers were the following:

President	Elwood Beckwith
Vice-President	Frank Marlett
Secretary	Gordon Klenck
Treasurer	Bill Erickson
Chaplain	Bill Kuhre
Membership	Ken Lundahl

MUSIC

The high quality of the music department of Warren High School is the result of an interest in music that has been a part of the school since its beginning. Through the years, students with musical ability and a will to work have found their places in the music organizations of Warren High School. Participation in music activities has always given students an opportunity to further their love of music and to broaden the scope of their interests. Hours of practice, ability, and capable leadership have won recognition for Warren High musicians of the past and present, and they, in turn, have given much genuine pleasure to their audiences.

An opportunity has also been given to students through these fifty years to prepare themselves for leadership in the music life of the community. This training has encouraged the development of better and more useful citizens and has helped to prepare good musicians to make a place for their talent in the social world.

Orchestra

The Warren High School Orchestra presented very enjoyable programs for the students and other music lovers of the community. Besides taking part in assemblies, the orchestra supplied music for other school functions. The success of the orchestra was due to the splendid work of Mr. Summers and to the co-operation of the members.

At the Christmas Festival, the orchestra assisted in the program by playing some fine selections and by accompanying the choir.

These young musicians presented most delightful and entertaining radio programs on their monthly broadcasts.

In May, the fifth Annual Band and Orchestra Dinner-Dance highlighted the social activities of the two instrumental organizations.

The Music Boosters, composed of parents and friends interested in school music, deserved much credit for the success of the orchestra.

The following officers served for the year:

President	Teresa Fino
Vice-President	Henry Blick
Secretary-Treasurer	Betty Laufenburger

As in previous years, the Dragon Band did their best to keep up the traditional school spirit. Resplendent in their blue and white uniforms, the band ably performed intricate drills and snappy formations during the football games.

On January 28, an excellent concert was presented to a large and enthusiastic crowd. An outstanding feature was the humorous presentation of the "Wedding of Heinie and Kathrina."

After the establishment of the radio station in Warren, the band received an opportunity to broadcast a program once a month. This proved very successful and did much to improve the fine musicianship of the band.

Because the interscholastic band concerts were so successful last year, the program was repeated this year. On May 10, Bradford spent the day in Warren, preparing for the concert which was given that evening. The following week the same procedure was carried out in Bradford. On both evenings excellent programs were presented for the entertainment of the public.

Much of this year's success was due to the whole-hearted support and co-operation of the Music Boosters' Club.

Officers of the year were as follows:

President	Alan Schuler
Vice-President	Bill Erickson
Secretary-Treasurer	Shirley Johnson

The Christmas Carol Festival at Beaty featured nearly 200 voices in the combined student chorus and was accompanied by the high school orchestra.

Through their monthly radio program, the work of the choir was brought directly to the public.

The annual concert in May climaxed a successful choir year.

Vice-President	Bill Hill

The Girls' Chorus, completing a very successful year, made great progress in singing ability. Membership in this group allowed pupils to continue their music study and to prepare themselves for the more difficult work of the A Cappella Choir.

Stress was placed upon the importance of voice quality, tonal blends, and sight-reading. In order to acquaint students with secular and sacred works of leading choral composers, a varied selection of music was studied.

At the annual Carol Festival, held in December, the Girls' Chorus joined the A Cappella Choir in presenting a Christmas program.

Dramatics

For many years dramatics in Warren High School has offered a wealth of training in a deeper appreciation of dramatic art. Students have learned poise, self-confidence, and ease in speaking before an audience. Emphasis has been placed upon correct speech, quick thinking, and stage deportment. The technical side has offered practice in business management, make-up, stage-craft, and lighting.

The Dramatic Club, which made its appearance in 1914, presented many short skits and assembly plays in the course of years. The Senior Class of 1920 gave The Admirable Crichton as their dramatic production. In the same year, the Minstrel Group, a new organization of dramatically-inclined young people, made their contribution. Other plays enacted by other classes were Trelawny of the Wells, Applesauce, Penrod, Mr. Pim Passes By, It Pays to Advertise, Adam and Eva, and Christmas Carol. In recent years, the Evening of Plays has offered many programs of interesting entertainment. Enthusiastic students of the Dramatic Club have taken much pleasure in presenting plays for assemblies, for the carnivals, and for various local organizations. The class of 1947 produced Best Foot Forward as a junior dramatic entertainment and Don't Take My Penny as a senior production.

At Christmas time an enjoyable play entitled Angel Face was presented in an assembly program. The junior play, the senior play, and the Evening of Plays proved entertaining and worth while.

LANGUAGES

The study of foreign languages has held an important place in Warren High School since its beginning. Far more than the grammar and the mechanics of Latin, French, Spanish, and German has been mastered. Students have gained a broader understanding of different nations through a study of their life and customs. Students have not been content with English translations of foreign classics, for they have learned the delightful freshness of the originals. Foreign languages have enriched the cultural background of students, broadened their viewpoints, and permitted fascinating glimpses into other worlds.

In the study of Latin, classes have looked back upon the great days of Rome, the conquests of Caesar, and the literary achievements of Cicero and of Virgil. Through the years the study of Latin in Warren High School has been modified from a strictly classical interpretation, and a greater effort has been made to adapt the vocabulary and the situations to the students' experiences.

Supplementing class work, clubs have been formed which have stimulated a lively interest and have provided a social touch. The Latin Clubs have engaged in various activities, one of which was the publication of Nunc et Tunc, a Latin magazine. The crowning event for a number of years has been the annual Latin banquet, with the awarding of certificates to the honor students.

For many years much time was devoted in Warren High School to the study of French. Although this language showed the Parisian gaiety and the worldliness of France before the world conflict, a more serious study presented the language of diplomatic circles and a better understanding of world conditions. Le Cercle Francaise, the French Club, promoted interest in France, her language, and her people.

Spanish was a popular language study in Warren High School for many years, but later was discontinued until 1944. This language has tended to develop the Good Neighbor Policy and to promote a better understanding of the problems of Latin America and of our country. In the Spanish Clubs, which accompanied classroom study, one of the main interests has been the correspondence with South American boys and girls.

The German language has offered a knowledge of scientific terms to pupils interested in science. The German Club, known as Deutscher Verein, was extremely active and thoroughly enjoyed by members for many years. Lebewohl was their publication.

Students of foreign languages have been taught to think for themselves. The English language and the life of the United States has become more intelligible with the study of foreign tongues.

The Latin Club was made up of the various Latin classes, each class being a complete club in itself with its own officers who were assisted by the senate. Each class held several meetings with varied programs. Roman plays were given in Latin, and Latin games were played. A study was made of famous Roman leaders and the life and customs of the average Roman citizen. At Christmas time, club members enjoyed singing carols in Latin.

The Latin magazine, Nunc et Tunc, was edited the first of April under the capable leadership of Sally Lundahl and Bruce Forsgren.

One of the aims in the study of Latin was to learn about people in other countries. The clubs took special interest in sending boxes of clothing, food, and other needed articles overseas. Each class chose a different country for the recipient of gifts.

To conclude the activities of the Latin Club for the year, the annual Latin banquet was held at the Y. W. C. A. in May. The entertainment was given by the students.

One of the best assemblies of the year was presented by this group on March 21. This program included music, comedy, and dramatics well-blended into amusing entertainment.

ATHLETICS

Athletics

Since the founding of Warren High School, athletics has been an important factor in school life. Participation in the various phases of athletics, namely, football, basketball, baseball, track, gymnastics, and intra-mural tournaments, has provided varied opportunities for all students. Throughout the years Warren High has consistently produced commendable teams. These teams, through the efforts of the outstanding athletes of which they were composed, have established the splendid reputation Warren holds today in the sports world. Thus players have not only gained increased strength and co-ordination but also have been inspired to higher standards of sportsmanship and fair play, a Warren High School tradition. In athletics of the future Warren will undoubtedly continue to strive toward even greater attainments by maintaining its high principles.

It would be impossible to mention all of the fine teams that have been developed at Warren High School. However, a few of the more outstanding squads were the undefeated football teams of 1918 and 1928, the state championship gym teams of 1940, 1941, and 1942, and last year's championship basketball squad.

An important factor in the development of Warren High School athletics has been the conscientious service given by Coach J. B. Leidig, who for thirty-five years has devoted his time and effort to the advancement of clean sportsmanship. Grateful recognition must also be given to Dr. Franklin G. Haines, who for many years safeguarded the well-being of our football teams.

Thus the recreation and the enjoyment derived from a half century of athletics have been essential links in a well-balanced school program.

Cheerleaders

Spurring the Dragons on to victory with their lusty yells, the six cheerleaders kept the school spirit high. At pep assemblies before most of the football and the basketball games the cheerleaders inspired the student body to support the team both by their attendance and their enthusiastic cheering at games. Although at times spirits lagged slightly and yells diminished in volume somewhat, all in all, successful cheer sessions were enjoyed in every sport.

Long to be remembered was the annual Warren-Jamestown game and the mammoth pep-rally that afternoon in the center of the business section. The cheers reverberated throughout the town and will echo in the hearts of students for many a year.

The vivacious members of the cheerleading squad were always ready with a yell regardless of the odds against the team. When chances looked darkest, the pep of the cheerleaders seemed greater than ever.

The cheerleaders, chosen on a competitive-elective basis, were trained by the '45-'46 squad and served under the direction of Mr. Leidig and the Athletic Association.

In the final game of the season Warren outscored the hard-fighting Corry Beavers. "Buzz" Crocker became the hero of the fray, as he "chucked" a 40 yard aerial to Ted Shattuck, who scored in the dying second of the game.

With only two lettermen returning from last year's championship team to form the nucleus of the 1947 squad, the Dragons completed another successful season. In winning eleven of their twenty-two game schedule, the Massamen displayed their greatest potency in league play by finishing second in District Ten, Section Two, competition.

After opening the season with a decisive victory over Youngsville, the Dragons romped over Corry and St. Marys in rapid succession. Next they lost to both Kane and Jamestown, but they bounced back to defeat Corry for the second time. In an overtime game, Warren lost a thriller to the Collegians of last year's championship squad. The Dragons then staged a comeback with a decisive victory over a strong Erie Tech quintet. Their luck was short-lived, however, as they next lost to Bradford, Kane, Franklin, and St. Marys, but the Massamen returned to start a victory streak of their own and quickly trampled over Oil City, Youngsville, and Meadville. After losing to Titusville, District Ten champions, Warren displayed top form in overcoming a powerful Jamestown five in the season's finale at Beaty.

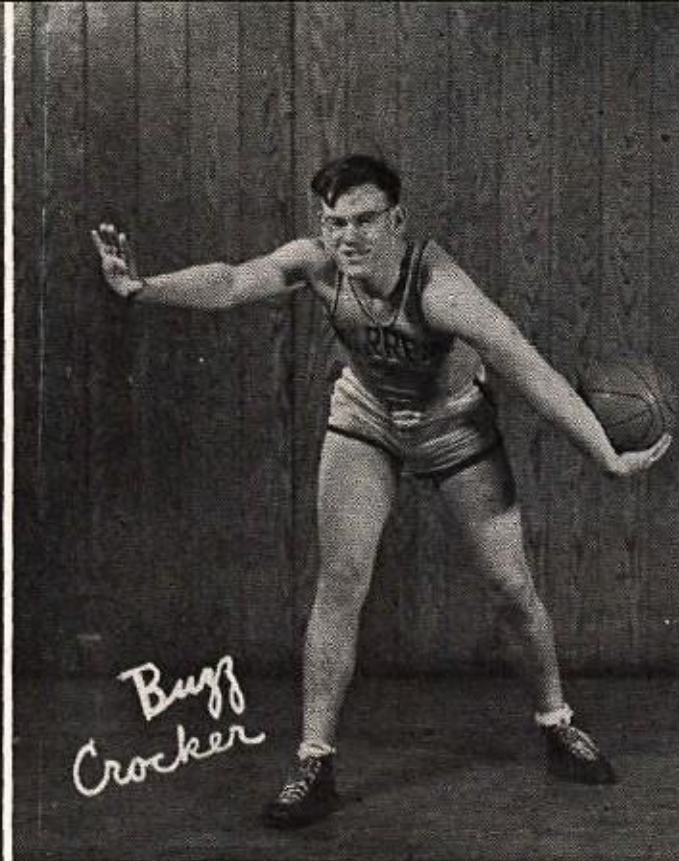

The Dragons gained much valuable experience this season, and the four lettermen returning next year will undoubtedly co-ordinate to produce another championship Warren team.

W A N T E D

God give us men. The time demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith, and willing hands;
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie;
Men who can stand before a demagogue
And dam his treacherous flatteries without winking;
Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Cooperation is the keynote of success; to accomplish anything one must have the wholehearted interest of everyone involved. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the many people who have made possible this historical edition of the DRAGON. I am particularly indebted to the members of the staff; to Ruth Kaebnick and to Martha Winans, my associate editors, and to Sophia Spiridon, the senior editor; and to my advisers, Miss Hurd, Mr. Young, and Mr. Bathurst. I also wish to acknowledge the helpful advice and cooperation given by Mr. Mohr of The Mohr Printery and by Mr. Anderson of the Morse Engraving Company. To the members of the faculty and to the student body at large, I am very grateful for their interest.

A NEW KIND OF CHAIN FOOD STORE

No different from other chain stores in the all important detail of immense buying facilities and ability to sell at lowest prices — but NEW in the idea that each store is an established neighborhood store — INDIVIDUALLY OWNED — instead of being operated by a manager.

The result is BETTER methods of operation — giving the customer chain store advantage and direct contact with the OWNER, who is vitally interested in serving you BEST.

CLASS of 1947

We congratulate you on your achievement. It marks an important event in your life. 1947 is also an important time in the life of Metzger-Wright's as it is our 51st Anniversary of being a department store in Warren.
